HEADQUARTERS 5TH ARMORED DIVISION OFFICE OF THE COMMANDING GENERAL CAMP CHAFFEE, ARKANSAS

TO THE MEN OF THE 5TH ARMORED DIVISION:

Although you may remain with the 5th Armored Division only long enough to complete your basic training, you have made the difficult switch from civilian to soldier during your stay at

The type of training you received here is the best in the Camp Chaffee. world! It is a result of lessons learned on battlefields of the past. Among your instructors are combat veterans who have seen action in not only the Korean conflict but World War II.

The knowledge you gained during your training here could be of life-saving benefit to you someday in a combat area. Remember all details of your training. They may have seemed of minor importance at the time, but on the battlefield they are all-important.

We are proud to have shared in your training - - - our reward will be the manner in which you serve your country in WI mitchell war and peace.

W. L. MITCHELL Major General, U.S. Army

Commanding

Illiam & Mitchel MAJ. GEN U.S.A

MAJOR GENERAL W. L. MITCHELL Commanding General

Maj. Gen. William Lemuel Mitchell was born 6 Dec. 1897, in Mandville, La. After graduation from the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., in 1920, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry. He received his first lieutenancy soon afterward.

He has been awarded the silver star and the Legion of Merit three times, the last time for services in Korea. This award is given for "Exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services" and stems from the Badge for Military Merit, America's oldest decoration.

General Mitchell was assigned as a student at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., and completed the basic course in June of 1921. He then joined the 33d Infantry at Fort Jay, N. Y., and later served with that organization at Fort Clayton, Canal Zone.

Afterward, he joined the Headquarters Detachment Panama Canal Division, where he subsequently served as aide-de-camp to Maj. Gen. William Lassiter. In July, 1923, he accompanied General Lassiter to Fort Amador, Canal Zone.

In September, 1924, General Mitchell was assigned with the 22d Infantry at Fort McPherson, Ga., and three years later became assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics and adjutant at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. Five years later he re-entered The Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., and completed the tank course.

He then was assigned as company commander and intelligence and executive officer of the 66th Infantry at Fort Meade, Md.

General Mitchell entered The Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., in August, 1936. He was graduated a year later, and was named aide-de-camp to Maj. Gen. John H. Hughes with whom he served at Manila, Philippine Islands.

In October, 1939, General Mitchell was a company commander in the 66th Infantry (light tanks) at Fort Devens, Mass. From there, he went to Fort Benning to become a battalion commander of the 66th Armored Regiment. In November, 1941, he was assigned to Headquarters Army Ground Forces as assistant to the acting chief of staff for supply. In May, 1942 he became secretary of the General Staff at Army Ground Forces Headquarters, and February, 1943, was named deputy chief of staff of the Army Ground Forces.

General Mitchell went to Nuremburg, Germany, in November, 1945, to become secretary general of the International Military Tribunal.

In August, 1946, he was assigned as assistant chief of personnel section at Army Ground Forces Headquarters, Washington, D.C. A year later he became a member of the Efficiency Evaluation Board of the Army General Staff.

General Mitchell went to Tokyo, Japan, in August of 1948, as deputy operations officer of the Headquarters Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers. In October, 1949, he was appointed chief of the statistics and reports section of that headquarters. In June, 1950, he was named chief of civil historical section and in the following month he became chief of the military personnel division. In December, 1950, he was appointed executive officer of the personnel section there.

General Mitchell was transferred to 8th Army Headquarters in Korea in February 1951, and was assigned deputy commander of the IX Corps in Korea. He was appointed assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Korea in May of 1951. He became assistant division commander here on 25 February 1952.

His Promotions: Reverted to rank of second lieutenant, 15 Dec., 1922; promoted first lieutenant, 19 Nov., 1925; to captain, I Aug., 1935; to major, I July, 1940; to lieutenant colonel (temporary), 24 Dec., 1941; to colonel (temporary), 15 July, 1942; lieutenant colonel (permanent), 2 July, 1943; brigadier general (temporary), 13 Jan., 1945; Reverted to rank of colonel (temporary), 30 June, 1946; promoted to colonel (permanent), 11 March, 1948; to brigadier general (temporary), 13 Feb., 1951, with date of rank 2 Feb., 1951; to major general (temporary) 16 Mar., 1953, with date of rank, 3 April, 1948; to brigadier general (permanent) 3 April, 1953.

The history of the 5th Armored Division is one of action, glory and tradition.

Upon activation I October, 1941, the division was assigned to Fort Knox, Ky., for training under the Armored Force. In March, 1942, under the command of Major General Jack W. Heard, it was transferred to Camp Cooke, Calif. From August to October, 1942, the unit took part in maneuvers in the Desert Training Center Area. In February of 1943, Major General Lunsford E. Oliver, who trained, led and fought with the division during the remaining years of the war, assumed command. In March, 1943, and from April to June 1943, the 5th Armored maneuvered in Tennessee under the Second Army. In July 1943, it transferred to Pine Camp, N. Y., to prepare for overseas service.

Sailing from the United States for the European Theater of Operations in February, 1944, the division trained at Camps Chiseldon, Ogbourne, St. George and Tidworth-Pernam Downs in Wiltshire, England.

By August of 1944, the "Victory" Division was in the thick of the Normandy campaign and moving on Le Mans. Sweeping between Coutances and St. Lo, as a part of General Patton's Third Army, the division embarked on a 300-mile exploitation behind the German Seventh Army. After the fall of Le Mans, the 5th pursued the enemy, wrecking their armor and inflicting high casualties all the way to the Seine River. In the Eure-Seine Campaign, following the plunge to the Seine, the 5th Armored Division distinguished itself, winning a commendation from the XV Corps Commander.

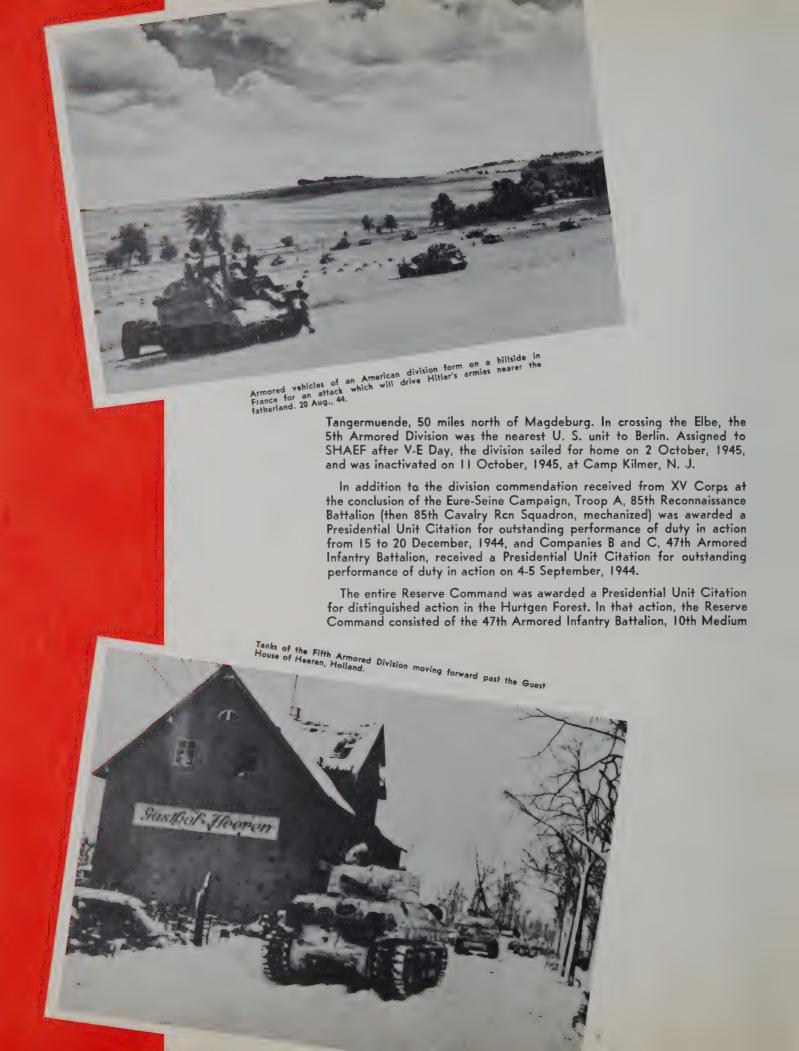

The beginning of September, 1944, saw the 5th, which had been shifted to the First Army, ready to start a 130-mile push from Paris north to Belgium. The division cut through the Compiegne Forest, crossed the Oise, Aisne and Somme Rivers. New orders sent the unit racing another 100 miles to the Meuse River, advancing southeast below the Belgian border. Speeding onward, the 5th figured in the freeing of Luxembourg. On 11 September, 1944, the Our River was crossed in the vicinity of Stalzenbourg; Germany had been penetrated. In November, the "Victory Division" participated in the original crossing of the Moselle River. The men of the 5th rate the December battling in the Hurtgen Forest and on the approaches to the Ruhr River as the most bitter fighting they experienced. They lived in mud, rain and ice and were constantly exposed to tremendous artillery concentrations. This was the month of savage warfare that broke the German spirit; never again did the Nazis fight with the ferocity shown at Hurtgen.

Fighting hard in December, during the "Bulge" period, the 5th greeted 1945 by continuing to advance and by crushing enemy armor in the XV Corps objectives. At Coblenz, the unit smashed and then mopped up all enemy resistance. By spring in 1945, the division, then a part of the U. S. Ninth Army, had rolled to the Wesser River and in May was driving north of Brunswick; it reached the Elbe and fanned out in the vicinity of Tank Battalion; 95th Armored Field Artillery Battalion; Company C, 22nd Armored Engineer Battalion; Troop C, 85th Cavalry Rcn Squadron; Co. C, 75th Armored Medical Battalion and a Detachment of Co. C, 127 Armored Ordnance Bn. By virtue of the 5th Armored Division's outstanding successes in the campaigns of Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace, and Central Europe, it proudly made good on its nickname: "V for Fifth and Victory."

The 5th Armored Division gives new soldiers the rugged basic training required regardless of the arm or service to which they might later be assigned. The training at Camp Chaffee will be hard and exacting and will build you up to peak physical condition and give you a firm basis upon which to build your Army career. In addition to making you a well trained, physically fit, disciplined basic soldier, the course is designed to assist you in becoming a better citizen both mentally and morally.

ARTILLERY

The job of teaching men how to become artillerymen is far tougher than simply telling them how to toss a shell into a field piece and pulling a lanyard to fire it.

Today's artillery weapons are intricate firing mechanisms, capable of pouring out thousands of rounds of accurately placed barrages—providing, and ONLY providing, that the men serving the piece and operating the fire direction center have mastered their jobs.

To instruct trainees in proper use of the sighting mechanisms and other instruments of fire control, cadremen employ long hours of patient instruction, beginning in camp and, later, in the field.
